GRAIN SHIPPERS SAVE 1.05 CENTS PER BUSHEL VIA CHURCHILL ROUTE

Winnipeg—The S.S. Pennyworth, which arrived from Liverpool at Churchill will carry back to Europe approximately 250,000 bushels of wheat for a freight charge of eight cents per bushel, a reduction of three and a quarter cents from the charge made in test shipments of grain last September.

This reduction partly due to the exchange situation, brings the cost of grain shipment via Churchill to 1.05 cents below the cost of shipment through Montreal according to calculations made by the Free Press.

In making the comparative calculations all items of expense, as compiled from authentic sources, were included and were based on the cost of shipping grain from Regina to London, England.

The total cost per bushel over each route works out as follows:

Cost via Churchill 25.62 cents.

Cost via Montreal, 26.67 cents.

Among the numerous items involved in export shipping, fluctuations are bound to materialize, but figures published hereafter, obtained from expert sources are given as indicating as closely and accurately as possible the costs of shipping through Montreal and through Churchill existing at present.

Churchill's advantage, placed at 1.05 cents per bushel of wheat at present, is bound to increase. In the future, according to expert advice, as items of cost in the two routes become equalized.

The ocean freight rate, for instance now almost twice as high for Churchill as for Montreal, may be reasonably expected to come down, when traffic over the northern route increases and establishes it more firmly in favor with the trade.

Comparative figures published herewith do not include the small item for stevedoring on reliable reports, will approximately balance for one route against the other.

Amounting to almost half of the cost of exporting wheat from Regina, either through Churchill, or Montreal, is the railway freight rate. For Montreal, the rail haul involved is from Regina to Port William, with a charge of 12 cents per bushel. To Churchill the rail freight charge is 12.2 cents.

Comparative mileage on the two routes are:

Regina to Churchill, 812 miles.

Regina to Port William, 776 miles.

The Churchill haul, therefore, is 36 miles longer than the Port William haul, for which 12 cents per bushel more is charged.

One of the largest items working a disadvantage for Churchill at the present time as compared to Montreal and other eastern ports, is the ocean freight rate.

From Churchill to London, the rate is now eight cents per bushel, while for Montreal the rate is 4.5 cents. This difference according to expert opinion is attributed largely to the fact that the Churchill route has not been established a regular trade route. The increased traffic should equalize the ocean rate from Churchill, bringing it to a par with Montreal's out-bound rate.

Favoring the Churchill route, on the other hand, is the lack of lake freight charges. In the Port William Montreal route the lake freight charge accounts for 4 cents per bushel of the total cost, at present. In export charges, this figure indicates a "bankrupt" condition in Great Lakes shipping, and, an increase is expected before fall, when the 1932 crop starts moving. On August 7, 1931, it was six cents and on September 18, 1931, it was five and three quarters cents. Normal Great Lakes freight cost is between six and seven cents per bushel. Increase in this item will work to the advantage of the Churchill route.

Another advantage held by the Churchill route this year, arises from the federal government's action in absorbing terminal charges through that port. Terminal elevator costs on the Montreal route amount to 1.5 cents per bushel, a cost item not appearing in the Churchill total of 25.62 cents.

Normal storage and elevator charges at Churchill when levied, possibly next year are expected to total one cent per bushel.

Without the federal government absorbing this item from this year, Churchill's advantage would be lost.

In the grain shipping picture several items of cost are exactly the same for both the Churchill and the Montreal routes. These items are country elevator charges amounting to 1.75 cents per bushel; the commission for selling, 1 cent; the government charge for certificate and inspection, 42 per cent; and the cost of wheat average between 1,300 and 1,350 bushels, resolves itself into a charge of 13 cents per bushel.

A charge of 42 cents for remitting the proceeds of the sale. This latter charge is one eighth of one cent, which amounts to 1.74 of a cent on 50 cent wheat.

A difference of 4 to 1 in the ocean insurance rate, with the Churchill route, in favor of Montreal, as compared to Churchill, is expected to be equalized when the northern route is opened up by increased traffic in the future. The penalty for being new shippers more in the ocean insurance rate, on the Churchill route, probably than any other item of shipping cost, being 1 cent per bushel as compared with 1/2 cent for the rate out of Montreal.

STIMULATION OF EMPIRE TRADE MAY RESULT FROM LOWERING OF BARRIERS

Ottawa—Declaring the conviction that the lowering or removal of barriers between the various parts of the British Commonwealth will lead to stimulation of increase in Empire and world trade, No. 1 committee of the Imperial Economic Conference reported recently.

The report which was included in the Conference proceedings is said today, declared that the various nations of the British Commonwealth have entered into "stipulations for the extension of mutual trade by means of reciprocal preferential tariffs. It does not matter the nature of these agreements even in broad outline. The agreements, however, are made in the interest of the Empire.

Conclusion of these agreements, the report states are a step forward which should in the future lead to further progress in the same direction, and which will utilize protective duties to ensure that the resources and industries of the Empire are developed on sound economic lines.

These groups held numerous meetings and their activities were of great assistance in connection with the bilateral negotiations between the United Kingdom and certain of the dominions. The results of their studies in respect to each group of committees were coordinated by an informal committee. Inasmuch as the groups and the coordinating committee were not constituted as regular subcommittees of the committee on trade promotion, no report was given by them to the committee. The conclusions which they reached, however, were made available by them for the use of the inter-delegation delegations.

General matters before the committee:

(a) That though it must rest with each government to decide what standard it will require, a general standard of uniformity throughout the Commonwealth is desirable.

(b) The standard required should not be so high as to defeat or frustrate the intention of the preferential rate of duty conceded to any class of goods.

(c) The question of export duties and anti-dumping duties will be in the Commonwealth, the committee recommended for the consideration of the conference the following resolution:

This conference, recognizing that export duties tend to reduce the value of tariff preferences for the Commonwealth, expresses the opinion that the raising of the level of commodity prices and with stabilized exchanges such benefits and the special duties which have been adopted as a means of justifying the situation, may be withdrawn.

That by the taking of its deliberations the committee was informed that negotiations were in progress between the various delegations for the conclusion of trade agreements and accordingly a drafting committee, under the chairmanship of the Right Hon. Neville Chamberlain, was appointed to prepare a resolution to record and present the bilateral trade agreements on negotiated during the conference.

Facilitate Empire Trade

The drafting committee present of the conference has recommended that the committee to the conference for consideration the nations of the British Commonwealth having entered into certain agreements with one another for the extension of mutual trade by means of reciprocal preferential tariffs, this conference takes note of these agreements and records its conviction.

That by the taking or removal of barriers among themselves provided for in those agreements the flow of trade between the various countries of the Empire will be facilitated, and that by the consequent increase of purchasing power of the peoples the trade of the world will also be stimulated and increased.

Further, that this conference records the conviction of these agreements as a step forward which should in the future lead to further progress in the same direction and that the Empire will be able to ensure that the resources and industries of the Empire are developed on sound economic lines.

MOTHERS ARE FUNNY THAT WAY

It's funny how they know so much. These wimmin folks of ours, I mean. Just how they do I can't guess. The queerest folks I ever seen!

Take "Mum" for instance; she can tell "Just when I am or what I'll do." "Get off that pole or you will fall!" I don't—then, hang! it all comes true!

"Quit those green apples—you'll be sick!" She prophesied to me one day. Sez I to "Mum", "One more won't hurt!" That night I nearly passed away!

My partner, Tom, he sez one day, "Come on, old boy, let's take a swim." We went and vowed no soul should know, Except, of course, just me and him.

But, shucks! as soon as I got back My "Mum" she looked at me and said, "For boys who will a-swimmin' go, 'Upstairs there waits right now a bed!"

Oh, eracky, "Mum", how did you know? I sure ain't never told a soul! Sez she, "A woman's intuition, son, Can easy see a swimmin' hole."

I ask you now, ain't it jest queer The way these wimmin seem to know The things you do, the stuff you eat, And how you play or where you go?

There ain't no way, as I can see, 'Of hidin' from a mother's eyes— But, say, it sure is tough on boys, That mothers are so awful wise!

HECK, with apologies to Frances Renfro

ACCIDENTLY KILLED

A sad accident occurred in Vancouver when Walter C. Risher lost his life. He and a man named Tetz with whom he was employed had come on a fishing trip. When they arrived at the fishing ground they backed their car as far down the incline as they thought safe, putting blocks against the wheels to hold it.

The blocks gave way and the car began to move. Tetz and Risher jumped out of the car and grabbed the emergency brake, but the machine plunged in to the water, where the body was found a few hours later.

Risher lived with E. V. Todd, a former resident of Bow Valley having sold his farm to Jim Harwood a few years ago.

Mrs. Dewitt accompanied the Todd on a motor trip through California some time ago.

BILLY SUNDAY

Billy Sunday, widely known evangelist, addressed a big crowd at the state fair at Des Moines. He had this to say about the modern flapper. She's a brazen, lipsticked, sex-overloading, laced-up shimmying, cigarette smoking, drinking hussy who can't flip a flapjack over the kitchen range.

Herb Ellis wants to know what he, or when Billy Sunday picks up his information about flappers.

ARE LEAGUE HURLERS USING SPITTERS

Detroit.—The spitball was declared unholy in the major leagues many years ago, and there remain only three pitchers, Gillette, Feller, and Ebbett, who are legally allowed to use it.

Did there are a dozen or so pit- ballers in the major today who de- pend on the spitter in a pitch- out they have been getting away with it.

The authority for this state- ment is Rocky Harris, manager of the Tigers, one of the shrewdest students of pitchers and solver of riddles in the big leagues today.

Spits It

How do I know the spitter is being used? said Rocky, the other day. "Well, I think I know a spit- baller. I see one. The ball turns over, and the direction of the spin is just opposite to a fast ball, and it takes a funny break. A fast ball has take off. The spitters sink."

Is he losing some of our very best players. So many new balls are tossed into a game nowadays, that a pitcher can get away with, outwitting a few without being detected.

I have seen a number of balls, said Harris, and the pitchers would explain them away as knuckle balls. A knucker, you know, has a lazy spin, similar to the spitball.

Big George Has One
 How about telling some specific names? Would Mr Harris be questioned? Certainly you can quote me. And as for specific offences, I'll tell you the name of one pit- cher getting by with a spitter right now. It's Lannan. I'm not making out George as a cheat, but merely as one of a dozen pitchers who are throwing spitters day after day.

Spitball pitchers these days have to find their act. Suppose a pitcher throws a fast ball. As soon as he lets go of it, he pulls his leg to his mouth and wets his fingers on the next pitch.

The finger moistening process, you understand, takes place before he gets back the ball from the catcher. The pitcher receives the ball in his glove hand, then slips the spit on it, and it's all set.

He doesn't use it often enough to get caught. Just when things are tough in a pitch.

That Screw Ball

Were there any other trick de- vices pitchers were using this year? Not so many any more, pit- chers are depending a great deal these days on chance of pace, that is hard to hit.

Quite a few throw a screw ball that is hard to hit. A right hander throws it with a kind of side arm about contracting long win- dows?—Can't you take it, for instance that I understand an old story point of law?

Lawyer (coolly).—You know, I've the matter I made in the lower court, where I lost, at least.

After all, the air one were—like in the dim corner of the room. "Give me a kiss," he pleads, "smuggling a little cover."

She made no reply.

"Won't you, please, give me a kiss," he asked again.

Still no answer.

"I say, are you deaf?" he asked.

sleep, letting the ball go out from the back of the hand. It's a reverse curve. A sort of drop in a right handed batter, and an out drive in a left hander. Of course a south- paw can throw a right handed ball, and a left hander a left hander that way.

 Did many pitchers telegraph their throw?

They don't do it very long. I certain left handed pitcher in a league had a habit when men were on bases that was a tip off. When he raised his hands over his head, preparatory to the pitch, they could tell whether it was going to be a curve or a fast one.

On the curve he would bring his left hand into his glove sooner, I get a better grip. On the fast one he would raise his hands and put them down without bringing it.

When they were back on his chest.

The Word Travels
 He was a tough pitcher, but just as soon as we got a man on base, we would knock him over the bat. Finally he got smart to himself, in some way, prob- ably somebody told him about it.

These things get out when men are traded to another club. They spill the beans to another manager and word gets around.

When that pitcher did learn the secret, we had discovered, he became very tough for us to beat. You see he would reverse the tip off. Then he had us guessing.

Mardonald and his wife stopped in front of a restaurant window in which was hung a card bearing the words: "Luncheon from 1 to 2 p.m. 10 cents."

"Well, have our dinner here, the lassie," said Mac. "Two hours steady eating for 10 cents is no bad."

Wife.—Henry do you know that you haven't kissed me for a fortnight?

Professor.—Good gracious, my dear! Then you on earth have been kissing?

Taking an examination at Ottawa for entrance into the Canadian army, a young volunteer was asked to define military strategy.

"Military strategy is when you don't let the enemy discover you are out of ammunition, but keep on firing."

Your methods of cultivation are altogether out of date," said the youthful agricultural college graduate the old farmer. Why I'd be astonished if you got even to his of apples from that tree.

So would I, replied the farmer. It's a pear tree.

It's a wonder that the telephone company isn't in the hands of the receivers.

Not so long as the receivers are in the hands of subscribers.

I've just caught five flies—two males and three females.

How could you tell?

Two were on the card table, and three on the mirror.

An elderly lady walked into the Bank of England and presented a parcel of War Loan. "Is this for conversion or redemption, madam?" asked the official.

"Young man," was the reply, "is this the Bank of England or the Church of England?"

Why is that man laughing?

Because he bought a second hand car cheap.

And what's the other chuckling over?

He sold the car.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CROP PRICE GUARANTY

Take advantage of this offer . . .
 Get the new equipment you need to reduce your production costs

Many farmers who need new machines for the economical production of their crops have been reluctant to buy them because of uncertainty as to the prices they will receive later in the year for these farm products.

In order to meet this situation, the International Harvester Company of Canada, Ltd., offers to farmers purchasing machines after this date, a definite price guaranty on wheat based on 77 cents a bushel for No. 1 Northern at Winnipeg, applying to a liberal portion of the purchase price of the machine. If the market price for wheat does not reach the guaranteed price at the time payment becomes due on notes given and maturing this year, the purchaser of machines under the plan will receive a credit equal to the difference.

Any farmer in Canada, regardless of where he lives or what he raises, can purchase McCormick-Deering farm machines under the terms of this offer.

This is your chance to replace wornout and obsolete equipment on a favorable price basis. Let us explain the details of this remarkable plan and tell you just how to take advantage of it in equipping your farm with the new cost-reducing machines you need at a real saving.

An employee of a large industrial concern was given an important paper to sign.

"Lots of reading on it," he observed, as he perused the text.

"Yes," remarked the clerk with the paper, "I'll bet you didn't read your marriage license as carefully as that."

"Maybe not," was the reply, "but ever since I signed that I've read everything."

Two girls were lunching in a restaurant at the same table. One of them having finished her lunch, a cigarette and blew a cloud of smoke across the table.

"Not at all," replied the girl amiably, "as long as I can hear the orchestra."

WHY NOT TRY POOL ELEVATORS?

Alberta Pool elevators are now operated under public license and are in a position to handle any grower's grain on the open market basis.

The excellent patronage extended to these Pool elevators during the immediate past crop year, by many growers who were never members of the Wheat Pool, is testimony to the favorable reputation enjoyed by this co-operative elevator organization.

The Alberta Pool elevators are being operated on a basis of no discrimination between customers and with the definite policy of extending fair and equitable treatment to all persons using its facilities. Why not give the Pool elevator a trial?

Arrangements can be made to pool any proportion of a member's wheat that he may desire. Information regarding this can be furnished by your Pool agent.
